BROWN'S LOVE NOTES

They Form Important Part In Testimony In Bradley Case.

FULL OF ENDEARING WORDS

Letters Have Been Classified by Both Sides to the Controversy and Will Be Presented to the Judy from Time to Time.

Washington, Nov. 22.—It has already become evident that the various letters written by former United States Senator Brown to Mrs. Bradley and those written by Mrs. Bradley to Mr. Brown will form an important part of the testimony in the case against her on the charge of murdering Mr. Brown, which is now on trial before Judge Stafford.

More than a hundred of Brown's letters to the woman were identified in court Wednesday and a smaller number from her to Brown were also presented for the same purpose. The letters have been classified by both sides to the controversy and they will be presented to the jury from time to time as the case progresses.

In most of the letters from Senator Brown to Mrs Bradley he addresses her as "Dolly," but this is frequently changed for the words "Sweetheart," "Love," "Beloved," "Dear Heart," "Angel," "Darling," "Wife," and "L. M. J.," the meaning of the initials, as was developed in Mrs Bradley's testimony, "Little Mint Julep," which was one of his pet names for her. The letters are full of endearing phrases, and in them the senator seems to have laid bare many phases of his character.

In one letter on the 18th of May, Mr. Brown says:

"I do hope to make an arrangement by which you can come back here and live with you. I believe, madam, (meaning his wife) will consent to a divorce. Certainly you and I cannot live apart. I shall die and you will go wild if we do not get together."

Again on May 23rd, he takes up the question of his divorce from his wife, saying:

"Have been in hopes that I could get some one to help me and see Madam and obtain her consent. I think she will, if rightly approached, but I cannot. But will see that some step is taken towards the final consummation and will never cease until you are my recognized wife."

Mrs. Bradley testified Wednesday that Brown and she frequently quarreled and on one occasion she struck him in the mouth with an umbrella because of cruel things said to her.

INSANE COMMERCIALISM.

Gov. Comer Refers to Same In His Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 22.—"Insane commercialism and reliance on the power of wealth has received a check" says Governor B B. Comer, in his Thanksgiving proclamation issued Thursday. "There is less evidence of thoughtless and remorseless combinations made for the purpose of unjust gain," he continues. He finds that there is a desire to return to sane methods and meritorious usages, which, "though contrited in name, like the salt put in the spring at Jericho by Elisha, to heal and cure the waters, from the beginning of time has led to happy and successful accomplishments."

After praying for the "passage of this financial brain-storm, chasing a dementia of business," the governor concludes:

"While some stagnant water will be left, the country is now being inoculated with the old-time methods of prudence, care, honesty and fair dealing which will result in clearing and securing the situation."

Trimmed Corn: Death Resulted.

St. Louis., Nov. 22—Blood poisoning resulting from having trimmed a corn and applied a corn plaster two weeks ago, caused the death of Mrs. Benjamin Kimball at her home here. She was sixty-five years old and was the daughter of the Mexican general,

VOTED DOWN TELEGRAM.

No Union of State and Church Allowed, Say Baptists.

Valdosta, Ga., Nov. 22.—At the session of the state Baptist convention Wednesday morning a sensation was sprung by an effort to send a teelgram of congratulation to the Alabama legislature on account of the passage of the state prohibition bill. This motion was made by O. H. P. Bloodworth, solicitor general of the Flint circuit.

A point of order was raised by Dr. W. W. Landrum, of Atlanta, that this was in violation of the time-honored principle of the separation of church and state, a cardinal tenet of the Baptist church.

Before the motion was put or the president could rule on the same, the point of order was made by Rev. J.D. Mell, of Athens, that under the order of business the time had arrived for the consideration of the report of the educational commission. The point of order was sustained.

Mr. Bloodworth moved that the point of order be set aside so that his motion could be considered.

Mr. Bloodworth's motion was put and defeated overwhelmingly. The cause of this was not opposition to prohibition, but because the convention opposed anything looking like a union of church and state.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE.

Resigned Freight Agent of Seaboard Arrested in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Nov. 22.—Just as he was preparing to depart from the city, J. R. Mock, recently resigned as freight agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway company in Atlanta, was arrested at the Aragon hotel Wednesday by Constable J. A. Parker and Detective R. A. Wood on the charge of having embezzled $6,600.

According to reports, Agent Mock left the city for Jacksonville on Monday, and was succeeded in office by Agent G. H. Fuller. After the resignation of Mr. Mock it was discovered by Traveling Auditors Burroughs and Marshall, so it is alleged, that something like $6,600 of funds was missing. An adjuster of the American Surety company, the concern on Mock's bond for $20,000, swore out a warrant in Justice Orr's court for embezzlement.

Constable Parker of Justice Orr's court, and Detective R. A. Wood, of the local detective department, went at once to the Aragon hotel, and on entering Mock's room found him about ready to depart from the city. He was arrested and placed in the Tower to await preliminary trial under $5,000 bond.

Cut In Twain by Dummy.

Columbus, Ga., Nov. 22.—Ed Thomas, a negro switchman in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line dummy line in Columbus, met a horrible death Tuesday night on Sixth street. He jumped off the running board of the dummy engine while it was pulling six cars, and ran ahead to throw a switch. He stumbled and fell on the track, and the engine passed over him, cutting the body in two. The first that Engineer R. L. Holleman knew of the accident was when he felt a jolt as the engine passed over some object, and the next moment saw a lantern roll out from under the dummy.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

Palatka, Fla., Nov. 22.—The state W. C. T. U. convention assembled here on Tuesday with Miss Minnie E. Neal, of Jacksonville, president, in the chair. Mrs. Peter Gardner, president of the local organization, has arranged for from seventy-five to one hundred delegates, and they are arriving on every train and boat. It is the intention of the society to work for a state law prohibiting the sale of whisky at the extra session of the legislature, soon to be called by the governor.

Dream Came True.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 22.—The body of Vas Sherwood, who suddenly disappeared from his home several days ago, was found floating in the Little Kanawha river. It was picked up at a spot on the river where his wife dreamed on the night of Sherwood's disappearance she saw it sinking in the river.

SHIP STORM TOSSED

Exciting Incident Occured on the Cunarder Mauretania.

ANCHOR TORN FROM LASHING

Went Dancing About the Deck of the Rolling Ship Threatening Injury to Her—Finally Lassoed by the Captain of the Vessel.

New York, Nov. 22.—Wire dispatches from the new Cunard line Mauretania indicate that the steamer will arrive at Sandy Hook, at daybreak Friday, several hours behind the record time of her sister ship, the Lusitania.

The aerograms also tell of a severe storm which delayed the Mauretania and record an exciting incident which occurred Monday night. The small figures made by the steamer that day, 461 knots, were due to this incident.

While the ship was plunging into the head seas some of them tore one of the heavy anchors from its lashings on the forecastle deck. The following seas and the rolls of the ship set was danger that damage would be was danger that damage would be done to the bowplates or the deck.

Captain Pritchard, who was on the bridge, ordered that speed be reduced and he then went forward and personally directed a force of men who tried to capture the runaway. It was the captain himself who finally put a line on the anchor by which it was lashed fast.

The storm, which the Mauretania had finally left behind her, was a fierce one. First there was a southwest gale, heavy clouds and high seas. Then the wind suddenly shifted to the northwest and the cluods cleared away, but the gale was cold and went whistling through the rigging.

SHOT HIS RIVAL.

Then Robbed Him of Girl on Their Way to the Altar.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 21.—When John Hall ,of Camden, S. C., was half way between South Mills, from Elizabeth City with Miss Maggie Sawyer, of the former place, in a buggy, Wednesday morning, on their way to be married, they were held up by Elmund Daily, of South Mills, a rival for the young woman's hand, and when Hall refused to halt he was shot but not seriously wounded.

Daily then took the struggling woman from Hall's vehicle and put her into his own, leaving the wounded man to care for himself.

Reports from South Mills and Elizabeth City say that Hall is not dangerously wounded, and that no trace has been discovered of Daily and Miss Sawyer.

Robert Sawyer, a brother, of the young woman, with a posse of his friends, is scouring the country for the pair. It is probable that serious trouble will result if the searchers catch the abductor of Miss Sawyer.

PANIC IN CHURCH.

People Trample on Coffins Holding Bodies of Murdered Persons.

York, Pa., Nov. 22.—Eli Cross, of Zion View, was probably fatally injured and other persons were hurt in a panic in Quickels church, six miles north of this city. While the funeral of the victims of last Sunday night's double murder was in progress a report gained currency that the building was falling. The church was at the time crowded to its doors.

To aggravate the rumor the heating stove was pushed and it fell over. The congregation immediately became frenzied and a struggle ensued among the people to escape from the building.

Men, women and children fought to get out of the windows and doors. Those who received injuries were hurt by being trampled upon or crushed in the struggle. The injuries were hurt by being trampled upon or crushed in the struggle. The injuries of the victims consist principally of broken limbs and cuts and bruises. The stampede occurred after 427 had passed before the caskets containing the corpses of the murdered people. In the crush the caskets were thrown to the floor. The funeral services were postponed and the bodies were buried as soon as the injured were removed and cared for.

HOUSE APPROVES BILL

Alabama Prohibition Measure Enrolled and Sent to the Governor.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 22.—"In spite of the protests of Mobile members, the Carmichael prohibition bill, as it passed the senate, was approved by the house on a vote of 70 to 4. It will be enrolled and sent to the governor at once.

Mr. Hoffman, of Mobile, tried to have an amendment submitted to exclude Mobile, but later withdrew it on the idea that the governor may be induced to offer an amendment that will give that county some relief.

It was argued that as the Mobile schools were given by the constitution all the liquor licenses they were cut out of funds and taxes that are enjoyed by other counties. They have no way of getting new revenue until tax laws can be passed that will provide the money. The law is effective January 1, 1909, at which time the sale of all liquors, except alcohol for medicinal purposes, must cease in the state.

A state officer, with a salary of $5,000 a year is to be supplied to enforce the laws.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

Chicagoans Will Form Organization to Correct Evil.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Charges that Chicago rapidly is becoming the greatest "white slave" center of the world and that a powerful syndicate for traffic in young girls exists in the city, has stirred religious and settlement workers to form a large organization for the express purpose of combatting the evil.

At a meeting of nearly fifty ministers, lawyers and settlement leaders Wednesday plans were laid for the work. A number of organizations already have expressed their eagerness to join in a crusade against the traffic in girls.

The drug store of M. F. Ward was entered through a window and $1.60 taken.

A rear window of the Buford drug store was pried open and an entrance made. About $15 was taken from a cash register in the store.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 21.—According to latest dispatches from High Point, N. C., the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. C., is gradually recovering from the injuries inflicted, and will get well.

Solicitor Hammer is said to have secured photographs of little Jessie Pleid to be presented as evidence in the trial which will be held at Lexington, N. C.

The Sheafs deny the charges, and they declared the child received the broken arm and other injuries in a fall from a swing. They declared they did not know the child's arm was injured until it had begun to stick together.

There was an informal but delightful wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramsey, North Gainesville, Thursday, when Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey celebrated their china wedding, being the fifteenth year of their marriage.

There were only a few relatives present around the family board, but those present enjoyed the elegant viands which had been carefully prepared. STROBHAR IS GUILTY DECLARED THE JURY

Convicted of Embezzling $7,500 from Atlantic Coast Line.

A MOST INTERESTING CASE

Case Was Called on Monday, and Has Occupied Time of Court Entire Week—Jury Out Sixteen Hours. Motion for New Trial Was Denied.

"We, the jury, find the defendant, J. N. Strobhar, guilty. So say we all. W. P. Fagan, foreman."

This was the verdict rendered by the jury in the famous case of the State of Florida vs. J. N. Strobhar, charged with embezzlement in the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars, while agent of the Atlantic Coast Line as this point.

The jury was composed of W. D. Fagan, F. T. Rutherford, C. C. Drummond, Geo. H. Gibbons, W. H. Jones and L. P. Tillman.

This case, which has been on the docket in the circuit court of Alachua county for the past two years, being continued from time to time, was called on Monday of the present week, and has occupied all the time of the court during the week.

The best legal talent which could be secured on either side was employed, and the case was fought on every legal point.

The argument for the defense was concluded Thursday afternoon about half-past 5 o'clock, when the charge of the court was given, and the case was left to the jury, with the understanding that if a verdict was reached within a reasonable hour the court would reconvene. There was no verdict reached, or reported, however, and after about sixteen hours' confinement, the verdict was rendered at the opening of court Friday morning.

A motion for a new trial was made and urged in the afternoon, but the same was denied, when the defendant was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

An appeal was taken, and the defendant's bond was fixed at $4,000, pending the giving of which the defendant is in the custody of the sheriff.

Captain Kelley's Funeral.

The funeral of Captain Geo. W. Kelley, the sad death of whom occurred at the home of his daughter in Seminole, S. C., was held at Windsor last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Thos. P. Hay, of the First Presbyterian church of this city, officiating.

The pall-bearers were J. D. Matheson, W. D. Dickinson, J. F. Bunch, J. A. Rosborough, John Torode, J. R. Zetrouer, all old friends of the deceased.

The floral decorations were numerous and beautiful. The ladies of South Carolina supplied many handsome floral tributes which were placed on the coffin, and the J. J. Finley Chapter, U. D. C., and the Colfax Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., also sent handsome designs, which were highly appreciated by the family.

The remains arrived over the Seaboard arriving at Fairbanks about noon Thursday. They were met there by the hearse and pall-bearers, who escorted them to Windsor. The interment was held in the old family burying ground, where a large gathering awaited the corpse, among whom were many colored people, old servants and friends of the deceased, who were quite popular with all.

The sympathy of the community is extended to relatives of the deceased in their hour of affliction.

Mr. Kelley was a Mason, and was also a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Mr. Schafer's Party.

As is his custom, R. T. Schafer on Thursday evening tendered a delightful birthday party in honor of his good wife, at which there were present a number of his most intimate friends.

This supper comprised many of the delicacies of the season, including roast wild duck with oyster dressing, and many other of the good things of this world to eat.

While Mr. Schafer could not invite all his friends, for that procedure would have required a dining-room larger than the city afforded, his most intimate acquaintances were honored, and those fortunate enough to be present enjoyed the big dinner set before them.

After a fine feast, the guests departed, voting unanimous thanks to the clever host and hostess, who always do things right.

Mr. Schafer stated yesterday that he would so much loved to have invited all his friends, but owing to the limited capacity of the dining-room he was unable to do so. The only guests at this dinner was himself and wife, his bakers and their wives.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup? Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Six Pair of Twins in 3 Years.

NOT A FORTUNE HUNTER.

Duc De Chaulnes Proves His Affection For Miss Shonts.

New York, Nov. 22.—According to friends of the Shonts family in this city, President Theodore P. Shonts, of the Interborough Metropolitan railroad, was persuaded to allow his daughter, Theodora, to become engaged to the Duc de Chaulnes by members of the family and by the duc himself.

The duc finally succeeded, it appears, in convincing Mr. Shonts that he was not a fortune hunter. It seems that when Mr. Shonts first heard of his daughter's attachment for the duc he declared emphatically that he could not yield to foreign families. Nor did Miss Theodora receive much support at the hands of her mother and sister. But Mr. Shonts determined to treat the duc fairly and he entertained him at the Shonts home in Washington. There the duc continued to press his suit with Miss Theodora, and he won over all of the family except Mr. Shonts. Then the persistent Frenchman tried to influence Mr. Shonts, but did not meet with much success until Mr. Shonts realized that he was entirely alone in his opposition. Previous to giving his consent, however, Mr. Shonts insisted that the duc must show his good faith by waiving any question of a dowery. This, it is said, the duc readily did, which proved to Mr. Shonts that his affair with Miss Theodora was really a love match.

The duc will sail for France, but he expects to return here about Christmas.

KICKOPEE ONDIAN LANDS.

Much Fraud in Connection Therewith Uncovered.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 22.—The senate committee investigating the charges of frauds in the sale of Kickapoo Indian lands, completed their examination of witnesses at Shawnee Thursday evening. Senators Curtis and Teller, passed through this city Wednesday on their way to Washington where the investigation will be concluded.

Such fraud is reported to have been uncovered that it is believed that it will prevent congress from moving the restrictions on Indians belonging to the Five Civilized tribes.

Senator Curtis, who has heretofore favored the removal, says since taking part in the investigation, that he will oppose it in the United States senate.

Killed Woman and Self.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—Karl Christian, aged 24 years, shot and killed Mrs. Florence Williams Wednesday and then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a fatal wound. R. W. Williams, the husband of Mrs. Williams, arrived on the scene of the tragedy in a few minutes, and had to be forcibly prevented from killing himself. Mrs. Williams was formerly Miss Florence Simons, of Summerville, S. C., and Christian has a brother living in Palatka, this state.

Yule Dough.

The first authentic record of Christmas pie or pudding is that of the Yule dough. This was a paste made in the form of a baby and presented to the infants in their christening as a Christmas gift. In ancient Rome on the night of the Saturnalia sweetmeats in the form of images were presented to the lady fathers and it is probable that Yule dough had its origin in this custom. A dough baby presented at one time that mince pie, which is composed of fruits and spices grown in the east, was a symbol in memory of the offerings brought by the wise men to Bethlehem when they came to worship the infant Saviour. The pie in later years came to be a wonderful compound of fruits, spices and meats, eggs and sugar and inspired the poet Herrick to write:

Come guard this night the Christmas pie
That the thereof to-morn we may see,
With sin fill'd up we shall come nie
To Epiphi.

From pudding now the universal piece de resistance in England, was originally "plum porridge" and was served from a tureen at all the Christmas festivals.—St. James' Gazette.

CANE SYRUP

By John Belling.
Fla. Agricultural Exp. Station.

When you boil down cane-juice to make cane-syrup, the loss of water as steam is not the only change. Some of the cane-sugar is changed by the acid and the heat into a different sugar (invert sugar), which will not form solid sugar in the syrup. Unless a large part of the cane-sugar is changed in this way, the syrup will form solid sugar as it cools. The acid in the cane-juice is very important, since without acid very little of the cane-sugar is altered. If we are making sugar (not syrup), we take away the acid by adding lime. But in making syrup we should leave all the acid. The more acid the better. If the juice ferments a little and becomes a little acid, it would not make sugar so well, but will make all the better syrup. In making sugar, the more quickly the juice is boiled down, the more sugar we will get. It is just the opposite with syrup; for the slower we boil down, the thicker we can make the syrup without it surging.

How Far to Boil.

The thicker we make our syrup, the less likely is it to ferment. So we want to get the syrup as thick as it can be made without sugaring. Having found the best point, some means is wanted by which we can get syrup of exactly the same thickness every time. This is proved by a hydrometer or by a thermometer. In Florida good syrup is made by boiling the juice until the Beaume hydrometer stands at 34 degrees in the hot liquid. If the Japanese cane is being used, it may be boiled to 35 degrees Beaume. In using the hydrometer some of the boiling syrup is dipped out in a vessel deep enough to float the hydrometer. The surface of the liquid, when free from froth, marks the degree. If a Brix hydrometer is the one used, the points will be 62 degrees Brix for ordinary cane and 64 degrees for Japanese cane. Some makers of syrup do not boil so thick, but their syrup ferments more easily. Syrup boiled to a higher degree is better for keeping, if it can be made without sugaring. If a thermometer has a scale up to 240 degrees Fahrenheit, it can be used for syrup-making instead of a hydrometer. It is dipped into the boiling liquid, and when the height of the mercury reaches 221 degrees, this is nearly the same as 34 degrees Beaume. When a good syrup has been made and its boiling point noted, any other syrup which boils at the same point will have the same thickness.

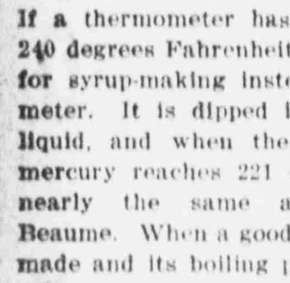
Hydrometers.

The hydrometer should be used only in the hot liquid, since it floats about 4 degrees (Beaume) higher in the cold syrup. Hydrometers for syrup testing may be procured through drug stores, and from most manufacturers of chemicals. (1) Eimer & Amend, 205-211 3d avenue, New York, in their catalogue for 1905, have a Beaume hydrometer for syrup, price 50 cents. (2) Arthur H. Thomas Co., 12th and Walnut streets, Philadelphia, in their catalogue for 1906, have a Beaume hydrometer for syrup, price 45 cents. (3) E. H. Sargent & Co., 143-145 Lake street, Chicago, in their catalogue for 1905, have a Beaume hydrometer for syrup at 50 cents, and a Brix hydrometer for syrup at 75 cents.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

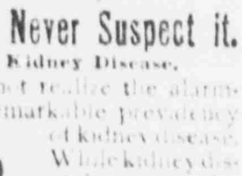
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.



What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.



Home of Swamp-Root.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

TALK OF EXTRA SESSION.

Rumor Says Georgia Solons Will Assemble In January.

Atlanta, Nov. 22—Following the decision in the United States supreme court against the state in the famous "back tax case" there has been revived around the capitol the rumor to the effect that there would be called an extra session, and at this time legislation to correct any defect which might now exist in aiding to collect these taxes would be passed.

Attorney General Hart has wired to Washington for a copy of the decision and is awaiting its arrival.

Until this is received it cannot be stated definitely the exact status of the litigation.

In the event an extra session is called it is stated that the call will convene the solons in Atlanta in January, at which time other bills of importance will be considered, too.

The matter of caring for the district and state agricultural college with adequate appropriations; the making of the crime of selling liquor illegally a felony instead of a misdemeanor, and other matters will doubtless be named to be acted upon specifically.

Wall, of Fredonia, Tenn., has again suffered a serious loss at the hands of fire fiends who destroyed a tenement house on his place. Mr. Wall is not a member of the Tobacco Growers' association and last August after receiving several threatening letters his general merchandise storehouse was burned, together with its contents, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

MUST ADOPT 2-CENT FARE.

First Act of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission.

Guthrie, Ok a., Nov. 22.—The first act of the Oklahoma corporation commission was to notify the Fort Smith and Western railroad to comply with 2-cent fare provision of the constitution until otherwise ordered by the commission.

The railroad company has thus far refused to establish the 2-cent rate. Under the constitution failure to comply with an order of the commission subjects the corporation to a fine of $500 for each day of violation.

The commission also received and filed complaints from the Midland Valley and the Wichita Falls and North Western railway stating that they cannot make a profit on 2-cent fares and asking for the re-establishment of the 3-cent rate. The latter road is only 33 miles long.

FIVE CHILDREN BURN.

Parents and Two Elder Children Escaped from Window.

Titusville, Pa., Nov. 22—Five little children ranging from 2 to 15, burned to death near here Thursday morning in their home.

Thomas Zuver and his wife, the parents, escaped, together with two elder children from an upstairs window.

One of the children escaping, a boy 17 years of age, was perhaps fatally burned. His ears were almost burned off while his hair was singed.

Over pressure of gas is supposed to have started the fire.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease. J. W. McCollum & Co.

A SWORDFISH DUEL.

Two of the Monsters In a Vicious and Deadly Battle.

The big swordfish had reached the blue waters of the ocean when without warning a blue backed torpedo-like body shot out of the depths, coming at it like an arrow.

The swordfish tipped intuitively, and a sword grazed its head as a big, thickset member of its own family swept through the waters above it.

The two fish turned and came at each other like mad bulls. Again by some miracle they missed, just grazing one another, to whirl about and begin the circling play for time and opportunity.

Then, like flashes of light, they turned and came on with a strange whistling sound and a contact that tossed the white churned spume high in the air—came together as only bodies weighing 200 or 300 pounds can when impelled by animate vibrant engines of unknown power—came together and remained there, whirling, tossing tails in air, rolling over and over. The long slender fish had pierced the other, and the terrific efforts on the part of the fish were to unsheath the sword, which was only accomplished after a struggle for several minutes.

Then both fishes shot away, then again came together, giving mighty side blows, and then out of the red stained water one broke and fled.

The writer found the largest of these fishes a few days later on the sand, where it had been washed or thrown by the waves. Four or five deep wounds marked the body.

In one rush the sword had entered the eye, coming out at the gills; another cut a furrow along the top of the head, another still had entered slightly from below, but the real cause for defeat was evident in its sword, which was splintered and broken against its enemy.—Recreation.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GOVERNOR BROWARD AS EDITOR.

The rumor that Governor Broward may go into Florida journalism when he retires from office affects us most pleasantly. During his term as Governor, he has had much to say in criticism of the press of this State, and at times has seemed to think it a sin, per se, for any newspaper to question the wisdom of his policies. Now we would like him to get the benefit of a different point of view, and as editor of a newspaper see how far removed from infallibility is even the chief executive of the State. We would warmly welcome Editor Broward to our noble fraternity and would chuckle with joy to see him launching his shafts of editorial criticism at some other Napoleon dressed in a little brief authority who would promptly retort upon him with blighting scorn by referring to him as "a little 2x4 editor." You remember the phrase, Governor? You didn't originate it, for it has been in use for generations by politicians squirming under press criticism; but if our memory serves us correctly, you have hurled that ancient chetsnut at Florida newspapers on more than one occasion, and we want to see some Jove on High Olympus up at Tallahassee nurl it at you a few times and carefully observe its effect upon a new hand at the bellows. It has been so long since we heard it the first time in our own case that we have forgotten the sensation. "Little 2x4 editors!" It seems severe, but as a matter of fact it is perfectly harmless—a venerable petrifaction which veteran editors regard as something in the nature of a curio in newspaper museums and point it out to visitors as a specimen of the now obsolete weapons used in the ancient warfare of primitive journalism.—Live Oak Democrat.

NO INTERIOR MAN.

[Ocala Banner.]

In the whole list of candidates it will be seen that there is no man a candidate from any interior city.

Mr. Stockton, Mr. Bryan, Mr. Fletcher (Mr. Broward, who will probably announce later), are all from Jacksonville, a seaport city.

Mr. Mallory and Mr. Beard are from Pensacola, a seaport city.

Mr. Sparkman, Mr. Park Trammell and Mr. T. J. L. Brown are from Tampa, a seaport city.

Mr. Albert W. Gilchrist is from Punta Gorda, a seaport city.

Mr. Jefferson B. Browne is from Key West, a seaport city.

In all that vast territory, stretching from Pensacola to Key West, no candidate is to be found except those who hale from the seacoast.

This means that the interior must continue to hew wood and draw water for the seaport cities.

The politics of Florida and the legislation of Florida are shaped to discriminate against the interior cities in favor of the seaport cities, and in consequence of which we more and more ascertain that anything like a wholesale business outside of a seaport city is an idle dream for Florida.

All that a man living in an interior city is expected to do is to throw up his hat and shout himself hoarse for the fellow from the seaport city, while from every commercial point of view our hands are tied, and business is taken away from us, and we lie prone and helpless, unable to move hand or foot—not only in Ocala, but in every interior city. Why continue to fasten stronger the cords that bind us?

That Alabama legislature which almost to a man voted out the liquor traffic in that great State, have received telegrams of congratulation from every corner of the country. There were only six votes cast for the continuance of the sale of intoxicating liquor—two in the Senate and four in the House.

Friends of W. H. Leahy, for many years connected with the Atlantic Coast Line, but now general passenger agent of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, with headquarters in Atlanta, will be glad to learn that he is "making good." This was no more than expected, however, for there is not a more popular or more efficient transportation man in the South. Mr. Leahy is sending out some handsome advertising matter for the "Bee Line," which is bound to bring results. All Florida, especially the newspaper fraternity, wish him success.

Judge W. B. Sheppard, recently appointed to the United States judgeship for the Northern District of Florida, is deprived of the honor of presiding at the first term of his court, having been disqualified in a number of cases in which he was interested as United States attorney, prior to his promotion. He has exchanged circuits with Judge Hundley of Huntsville, Ala., and will conduct Judge Hundley's court in Birmingham.

If one is to judge by the constant demand for labor at good prices throughout the entire State, and the general activity of the manufacturing enterprises, building, etc., one would never suspicion that there was such a thing going on as a "money panic," except what appears in the press. Indeed, we Floridians are fortunate, and we should all have something to do in observing Thanksgiving.

Brothers Bittinger and Carroll of The Ocala Evening Star are making an excellent paper, and a paper which the good people of the Brick City evidently appreciate, judging from the congested condition of its advertising columns. The Star recently found it necessary to enlarge, and it is now a five-column quarto. The Sun congratulates its contemporary.

A USE FOR SPIDERS.

Keep Them In the House and You Will Have No Roaches.

"It is too bad so many people are pr[illegible]iced against spiders," said the man who always finds out curious things. "If they could stand it to have spiders around, they would soon get rid of cockroaches. In the spider the cockroach has an enemy that pursues him with more malevolence than does the cleanly housewife. And not only is this hatred more deep rooted; it is more deadly. All things considered, the cockroach shows mighty little respect for the human race. He knows that, although he is small, he is chock full of inventive genius, and he laughingly scorns the futile attempts of men and women to circumvent and destroy him.

"So long has he been battling for life against paris green, fly paper, hot water and wire cages that he has learned to saunter through green lanes of poison and wade rivers of glue without so much as soiling his toes, and when it comes to the scalding bath he swims blithely out and wriggles his whiskers in derision at his would be slayers. But he dares not treat the spider with such disdain. In fact, he doesn't have a chance, for the spider outdoes even the cockroach in cunning and nabs him without the least ceremony.

"Still it would be hardly advisable to recommend raising a crop of spiders as a sure preventive of cockroaches, for in most people's minds the exterminator is more objectionable than his victim."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE LAST WITNESS.

He Caused a Commotion In a Suit In Chancery.

It was a suit in chancery, and there was a great gathering of deceased's family, quarreling, as relatives will, over the division of the spoils. The lawyers engaged chuckled, for the suit seemed likely to be prolonged and complicated.

There were many lawyers, too, and the judge marveled at the immensity of the deceased man's family as lawyer after lawyer rose in rapid succession, introducing themselves with the usual formula, "And I, my lord, am for the nephews (or nieces or fifteenth cousin removed, as the case may be) of the deceased." The procession seemed interminable, but at last it came to an end. Then a small voice was heard timidly saying from the back of the court, "May I be allowed to speak, my lord?" There was dead silence as his lordship adjusted his spectacles and asked rather dejectedly, "Who are you?"

The answer was, to say the least, unexpected. "I am the deceased, my lord," said the modest voice from the back of the court. That ended the action.

Quite unknown to his relatives the deceased had turned up from the wilds of Rhodesia. Obviously a man of humor, he must have taken a delight in watching how "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft agley."—English Paper.

A "Cordon Bleu."

A woman cook in France is known as a "cordon bleu," the title having come down from the days of Du Barry and the profligate King Louis. The king and his favorite one day had a discussion as to the relative merits of men and women cooks. The king contended that only a man could cook a dish fit for a king to eat, and Du Barry upheld the skill of her sex. The result was a dinner given by Du Barry, every dish of which had been prepared by a woman. At the conclusion of the meal the king acknowledged he was wrong. He sent for the cook and placed around her neck his own ribbon of the Order of the St. Esprit, known as the cordon bleu. Since then a skillful woman cook in France has been known as a "cordon bleu."—London Times.

The Dangerous Fly.

Although the mosquito specializes on yellow fever and malaria and is universally recognized as an enemy to be fought outright, scientists have come to regard the common house fly as the more dangerous. The mosquito will spread only one or two diseases, but the house fly's only specialty is filth. Typhoid germs, tuberculosis germs and a hundred other germs are all the same to it. It is a scavenger that drops its load of refuse in the butter or the milk.

An Invitation.

"I suppose," he ventured, "that you would never speak to me again if I were to kiss you?"

"Oh, George!" she exclaimed. "Why don't you get over the habit of always looking at the worse side of things?"—London Tit-Bits.

Oh, Say.

SUICIDED IN MENAGERIE.

Stopping Before Lion's Cage Man Coolly Sends Bullet in Head.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Seemingly as free from worries as any one in the careless, curious throng around him, Henry Toppen, a Chicago student, said to be the son of wealthy French parents in Switzerland, wandered alone before the various cages in the Lincoln Park animal house Wednesday. He paused before the lion's quarters, drew a revolver from his overcoat pocket, placed it to his mouth and killed himself. He died a few minutes afterward.

Toppen was 21 years old and had been attending a private school and was fidding in the prospect of returning soon to his Swiss home. What had occurred to upset his pleasant prospects, none of his friends can imagine.

Forestry Law for Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 22.—Alabama is to have a comprehensive forestry law, a bill to that effect having been passed by both houses. The bill is prepared under the advice and direction of experts of the national forestry department.

Kills Herself and Two Sons.

Norton, Mass., Nov. 22—Jessie T. Hodges, wife of William T. Hodges, killed herself and her two sons, William, aged 11, and Butler H., aged 6, by asphyxiation, at her home in New London, some time during the night.

Impure blood runs you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

Don't be troubled because you have not great virtues. God made a million specks of grass when he made one tree.—Beecher

Sustaining His Reputation.

A story is told of the Prince de Conti, whose reputation for cruelty stood high. He was going to mass with some ladies when his bailiff asked for instructions concerning a poacher who had just been caught on the grounds.

"Give him 100 stripes and imprison him in a dungeon for two years," was the answer.

One lady, horror stricken, went to the bailiff afterward, but he only laughed in her face.

"The prince only said that to keep up his reputation. His royal highness came to me directly after mass and begged me to see that the poor wretch was only sent away from the neighborhood for two months and that his family was well looked after during his absence."

Never Forsake a Friend.

Whatever happens, never forsake a friend. When enemies gather, when sickness falls upon the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, is the time to try true friendship. They who turn from the scenes of distress betray their hypocrisy and prove that interest only moves them. If you have a friend who loves you, who has studied your interest and happiness, be sure to sustain him in adversity. Let him feel that his love was not thrown away. Real fidelity may be rare, but it exists in the heart. They only deny its worth and power who never loved a friend or labored to make a friend happy.—Exchange.

Girls to Be Pitied.

I know of many well to do middle class families where the daughters, having received the education of canary birds, are launched on a sea of gayety with a cargo of pretty smiles and frocks to captivate husbands.—London Madame.

Bad Judgment.

William—Did the baby come from heaven, mamma? Mamma—Yes, dear. William—Huh! That kid didn't know when he was well off, did he?—Chicago News.

The Sawfish.

More energetic than any other sharks are the sawfish, whose snouts are prolonged into a broad blade of cartilage, which is horizontal when the fish is swimming in a normal position and has both its edges set with slightly curved teeth about an inch apart. The end of this formidable looking weapon is blunt and comparatively soft, so that it is quite incapable of the feats popularly attributed to it of piercing whales' bodies, ships' timbers, etc. It attacks other fish by a swift lateral thrust of the saw beneath them, the keen edge disemboweling them. Then it feeds upon the soft entrails, which are apparently the only food it can eat from the peculiar shape of its mouth. It has an enormous number of small teeth, sometimes as many as fifty rows in one individual, but they are evidently unfit for the rough duties required of their teeth by the garbage eating members of the family.

A Wasp Nurse.

A story of how one wasp cared for another that had been injured is told by a gentleman who, while reading the newspaper, felt bothered by the buzzing of a wasp about his head and knocked it down. It fell through the open window and lay on the sill as if dead.

A few seconds afterward, to his great surprise, a large wasp flew to the window sill and, after buzzing around his wounded brother for a few minutes, began to feel him all over.

The injured wasp seemed to revive under this treatment, and his friend then dragged him gently to the edge, grasped him around the body and flew away with him. It was plain that the stranger, finding a wounded comrade, gave him aid as well as he could and then bore him away home.—London M. A. P.

Couldn't Tell.

"Is marriage a failure?" asked the old bachelor of the young bride.

"I don't know yet," replied the bride innocently. "You know, my husband does not get paid until next Wednesday."—Detroit Free Press.

Telling Tales.

The teacher was giving them a practice lesson in the art of conversation, and every little girl was expected to tell of some incident in her recent experience. In the class there was one bashful little girl who finally was induced to tell of an experience she had when the family were out riding.

"We were riding along, having a nice time," she said, "when we saw another horse and buggy coming very fast. And pretty soon the buggy ran into something and was upset, and all the people were thrown out. Then papa said: 'Good enough for them. I never liked those people very well anyhow!'"

There was a burst of laughter in the room, for everybody knew who the people in the accident were.—Columbus Dispatch.

The Same Old Mother.

"Now, Jamie," said the schoolteacher, "if there were only one pie for dessert and there were five of you children and papa and mamma to divide it among, how large a piece would you get?"

"One-sixth," replied Jamie promptly.

"But there would be seven people there, Jamie. Don't you know how many times seven goes into one?"

"Yes'm, and I know my mother. She'd say she wasn't hungry for pie that day. I'd get one-sixth."—Youth's Companion.
